INTRODUCTION:

This report outlines the successful donation initiative undertaken by college students from different department to support foster homes. The initiative aimed to address the needs of foster children, promote community engagement, and instil a sense of philanthropy among college students.

OBJECTIVES:

The primary objectives included fostering a culture of giving among college students, addressing the essential needs of foster children, and establishing a sustainable connection with local foster homes.

REPORT

The donation initiative by students emerged from a collective commitment to making a positive impact on the lives of foster children. College students contributed a range of items, including, school supplies, Groceries and recreational items. These donations aimed to address both the practical and emotional needs of foster children.

CONCLUSION:

The donation initiative by students exemplifies the positive influence that college communities can have on local foster homes. This experience serves as a testament to the commitment of college students to contribute to the welfare of their community.
