The objective of the Program:

TALENTIA 2022-23 an event organized for the freshers of Dept. of Computer Applications to show their abilities but also motivates other students, to come up front and show their secret potential. Young adults have an ocean of hidden talent amongst them and it was displayed on Sept 22,2022 at SFS College Auditorium.

The event commenced by displaying a a inspirational video by Late A P J Abdul Kalam, followed by a motivational talk by Ms. Sailaja M, HOD , Dept Computer Applications.

Anirudh of Sem I BCA, proactively took upon himself to be the MC of the program and welcomed everyone to the event. Divya G, Chandana and Harshitha displayed their pencil drawings and paintings. Tarunkumar, Sem 1 BCA delivered cheeky comedy patter and made everyone's mind lighter. Muvva performed a very graceful classical dance with confidence. Hariharan and Anil performed for fast numbers and the audience asked for a "repeat" too which was acknowledged by the performers. In between the events, Anirudh MC of the event entertained with his witty jokes and encouraged everyone to showcase their talents. The whole program was coordinated by Prof Saranya Anil along with class coordinator of Sem I BCA ,

These events help to nurture the intrinsic qualities of students and overcome the stage fear among students. Students participated enthusiastically in this event and displayed their abilities magnificently. All students actively encouraged the participants of the event.

The outcome of the program:

Talents are things you're good at and can get you a good place in life. Everyone has talents, but sometimes we haven't found them. So a talent show can help us discover our performing arts gifts. Having a talent show at school is a good thing and something to be proud of the students.

By implementing and practicing talent development, employees will acknowledge their roles and have the skills and tools they need; this helps them enact fewer errors. Appropriate training also increases employee engagement, which enhances their general performance.
