Dr. Robert Gnanamony felt that it was a privilege to present to the Student Webinar on Human centric approach. He began with a small anecdote about an 8th std girl who was studying in St. Josephs' School and read Jane Austen's original book. He said that there is no substitution in reading. All the countries and industrial world are fighting the pandemic situation with the help of Digital Technology. He said small microchips do wonders in the world. Digitalization works and is used throughout the world even in the hospital etc. He also spoke about 5G technologies.

He explained about the colonial pipeline namely digital technology. Cloud computing and machine learning are connected in business. Cryptocurrency has begun to serve the world and we would be using this later in the future.

He asked a few questions to the faculty members such as, "Do you organize quiz competitions? Reading Practice? Literature based movies? Play English folk Songs?" He formerly stressed that all the students need music and literature.

He said Francis Bacon's words "Reading maketh a full man; conference, a ready man; and writing, an exact man; and, therefore, if a man writes little, he had need have a great memory; if he confer little, he had need have a present wit; and if he read little, he had need have much cunning, to seem to know that he doth not". He motivated all to read the book, to grab the book. The Keynote address ended at 10:45am.

Prof. Archana took over the valedictory session. Dr. Hema shared her view on the event. She said that some presentations were on education and gender equality. She said wisdom should be given more importance. Though the online classes are going on yet the physical presence is not found in the class. She said that when we read the book, we would really smell the book. Distraction in the class is common but getting connected with so many students in the class is not found in the digital classes.

The feedback form was shared in the chat box and the students were asked to fill it.

Dr. Thanrini also shared her thoughts about the students' presentation. She said that she was happy and this platform paved the way for all to go ahead to learn.

He mainly pointed out that the purpose of this webinar was to share the research skill and to give research skill to the students to improve personal and networking, publication etc. He wished a fruitful day to all the presenters and informed them that some of the papers would be published in reputed peer reviewed journals. He congratulated and encouraged all the presenters as well as the participants in developing talents and skills.

Dr. Sheeba, the HOD of English introduced the keynote speaker, Dr. S. Robert Gnanamony. He was a former dean at School of Liberal Arts and Special Education Kalasalingan University. Dr. Robert Gnanamony felt that it was a privilege to present to the Student Webinar on Human centric approach. He began with a small anecdote about an 8th std girl who was studying in St. Josephs' School and read Jane Austen's original book. He said that there is no substitution in reading. All the countries and industrial world are fighting the pandemic situation with the help of Digital Technology. He said small microchips do wonders in the world. Digitalization works and is used throughout the world even in the hospital etc. He also spoke about 5G technologies.

He explained about the colonial pipeline namely digital technology. Cloud computing and machine learning are connected in business. Cryptocurrency has begun to serve the world and we would be using this later in the future.

He asked a few questions to the faculty members such as, "Do you organize quiz competitions? Reading Practice? Literature based movies? Play English folk Songs?" He formerly stressed that all the students need music and literature.

He said Francis Bacon's words "Reading maketh a full man; conference, a ready man; and writing, an exact man; and, therefore, if a man writes little, he had need have a great memory; if he confer little, he had need have a present wit; and if he read little, he had need have much cunning, to seem to know that he doth not". He motivated all to read the book, to grab the book. The Keynote address ended at 10:45am.

Prof. Archana took over the valedictory session. Dr. Hema shared her view on the event. She said that some presentations were on education and gender equality. She said wisdom should be given more importance. Though the online classes are going on yet the physical presence is not found in the class. She said that when we read the book, we would really smell the book. Distraction in the class is common but getting connected with so many students in the class is not found in the digital classes.

The feedback form was shared in the chat box and the students were asked to fill it.

Dr. Thanrini also shared her thoughts about the students' presentation. She said that she was happy and this platform paved the way for all to go ahead to learn.

Thus, the Students' National webinar was successfully conducted. Dr. Madhuramozhi V, the coordinator of the Department of English took initiative along with Dr. Noor, Dr. Sheeba, Prof. Archana, Prof. Francis Lopez, Prof. Umamaheshwari and Prof. Evangeline Richard to conduct and organize the event.

REPORT ON INFINITY 2021- ONLINE GUEST LECTURE SERIES

TOPIC : SCOPE FOR RESEARCH IN ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND INNOVATION

Date: 13th January, 2021

Time: 9:00 AM to 10:00 AM

Venue/Online Platform: Zoom and YouTube

Introduction

Entrepreneurship is an innate desire of entrepreneurs. It is the ability and readiness to develop, organize and run a business enterprise along with any of its uncertainties in order to make profit. It is one of the resources economists categorize as integral to production. Entrepreneurship can be found everywhere nowadays. Every profession has an entrepreneurial sector. Agriculture is most certainly very strong in that particular division. Entrepreneurship and Agriculture are utterly connected and have a lot to offer to each other. Farmers in the entrepreneurship sector consider their farms to be businesses. And they will treat them as such. They are willing to take risks, they will try new and innovating techniques and in general they will do everything in their power to come up with ideas that will maximize their profit, minimize their effort and grow their business. Every "small-scale farmer" can become an entrepreneur. Farmers show a remarkable ability to adapt to new technologies that help them organize their farms in a new and innovating way. And this is the first step towards becoming a Farmer-Entrepreneur. Agriculture sector provides food for 1.3 million people in India as well as supports over 60 per cent of the population for their livelihood and plays a crucial role in sustainable growth of the country's economy. Traditionally, agriculture has been seen as a low-tech industry with limited dynamics, largely controlled by a huge number of small families, which over the years paid attention to improving crop yield rather than looking at it as money making module. The present day youth must know the agricultural entrepreneurship as it can increase the GDP as well as make the Indian Economy very strong. Agri Industries have the potential to for income generation in rural areas. These industries inspire dispersal of economic activities in the rural areas which help to resolve the regional imbalance and promote balanced regional development.

REPORT ON INFINITY 2021- ONLINE GUEST LECTURE SERIES

Date: 11/01/2021 to 13/01/2021

Time: 11:30 am to 12:30 pm

Introduction

The Department of Computer Science, SFS College organized a seminar on 'Artificial Intelligence (AI)' on 11th January 2021 in online. The guest speaker was Dr. Mahalakshmi S.B, Assistant professor, PG dept. of CS/IT at Shri Ramakrishna college of arts and science Coimbatore with 10 years of teaching experience and 2yrs of industrial experience. The event started with a welcome address. In her talk she emphasized what is the artificial intelligence, the uses of the artificial intelligence, its architecture and applications in real life with relevant examples. It was a very informative session. The lecture was received with admiration by the students and they also found the slides appropriate. The event ended with honorarium to the guests and vote of thanks.

she spoke on "AI at a glance" and gave hands-on experience in use of AI using an android phone and highlighted the scope of the topics, its applications, future impact and spoke about several courses and job opportunities in that area. The session had an interactive QA session wherein the students quizzed him on several issues ranging from the basics, technology aspects of AI, applications to a common man.

Discussions regarding the future of AI in India and abroad took place between the students and the speaker. Queries were regarding the involvement of devices in AI like sensors, network, and connectivity and so on. He also added people use AI words as per their convenience. Hardware people think that only connecting devices to the Internet means AI or only wireless sensors network means AI, on the other end software people think that only app.

Day 2:

The second day continued from Dr. K. Kalaiselvi, Assistant Professor, Computer Science Kristu Jayanti College, Bangalore. Today computers and the Internet are almost wholly dependent on human beings for information. Nearly all of the roughly 50 petabyte (1 petabyte=1015 bytes) of data available on the Internet were first captured and created by human beings by typing, pressing a record button, taking a digital picture, or scanning a bar code. Conventional diagrams of the Internet leave out the most numerous and important routers of all - people.

The problem is, people have limited time, attention and accuracy all of which means they are not very good at capturing data about things in the real world. And that's a big deal. We're physical, and so is our environment ... You can't eat bits, burn them to stay warm or put them in your gas tank. Ideas and information are important, but things matter much more. The Internet of Things has the potential to change the world, just as the Internet did or even more.

The proliferation of devices with communicating-actuating capabilities is bringing closer the vision of an Internet of Things, where the sensing and actuation functions seamlessly blend into the background and new capabilities are made possible through access of rich new information sources. The evolution of the next generation mobile system will depend on the creativity of the users in designing new applications. IoT is an ideal emerging technology to influence this domain by providing new evolving data and the required computational resources for creating revolutionary apps.

Day 3:

The third day continued from Dr. R. Nismon Rio, Assistant Professor, Computer Science, CHRIST (Deemed to be University). A blockchain, originally block chain, is a growing list of records, called blocks, that are linked using cryptography. Each block contains a cryptographic hash of the previous block, a timestamp, and transaction data. By design, a blockchain is resistant to modification of the data. Blockchain Technology Overview NIST Pagefree downloads NISTIR 8202.

The presentation of the lecture was excellent, with the lecture organized into a slide showing methodical divisions in the AI area, such as the technical spectrum, the marketing issues on AI and so on. The presentation contained several videos which caught the attention of the students and made it very effective. Lecture has a bright future for at least another 20 years and the focused and determined professionals in the area can make it to the top and grow with the field.

Infinity - Online Guest Lecture series

'Reviewing Children's Literature and its many incarnations'

Date: 13 January 2021

Venue: Google Meet

Organized by: Department of English and IP and Research Cell

Resource Person: Ms. Vidya Mani, Founder and Editor at Melting Pot.

The Chaucer's Academy, a creative association of Department of English had organized a guest lecture on 13 January 2021. This lecture was part of the series of lectures organized every semester by all the departments of St. Francis de Sales College. The focal point of this guest lecture was to introduce our English students to the various incarnations of children's literature in India and globally.

Ms. Vidya Mani, Founder and Editor at Melting Pot, an acclaimed publishing house was the resource person for the lecture programme. She addressed the audience on a virtual platform. The session began with a prayer by Prof. Francis Lopez. Prof. Evangeline Richard welcomed the participants and the resource person to the gathering. She also introduced the resource person to the gathering and threw light on her accomplishments in the field of publishing children's books and keeping alive the oldest tradition of story-telling and reading literature. Ms. Vidya captured the attention of the audience and introduced them to the importance of children's literature for the millennial. She shared her hands-on experience and her association with literature of the same genre since many years. Ms. Vidya made known to us the world-famous literary figures of this genre. She also elucidated the difference between children's literature and young-adult literature.

Ms. Vidya chronologically sketched the evolving of publishing houses at a national level in India. Though India has a very rich and ancient tradition of story-telling, this genre of literature was not well documented. It was only in 1957 under the initiative of K. Shankar Pillai, a publishing agency – Children Book Trust was established. Succeeding this was the entrenchment of National Book Trust as envisioned by Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru to make low cost books available to young readers. Ms. Vidya acquainted to the audience, an array of writers like Salman Rushdie, Poly Sen Gupta, Kings Joyce etc who are pioneers in children's and young adult literature. The journey of NBT was discussed in detail by the resource person and she explored various picture books that were published in many Indian languages. She briefed about the native voices in these publications, trying to capture the essence of nationhood and spread the message of Indianess in the young minds.

As the session progressed towards the end, the question and answer session was initiated and well moderated by Prof. Francis. This was open to questions from the students and faculty members. The students posed many questions about the author's views on bestselling novels and shared their experience of reading those alluring picture books during their childhood. Students were also curious about the availability of books displayed by Ms. Vidya during her discourse. Dr. Sheeba Murugan, HoD of English, proposed the vote of thanks and in her speech she thanked the resource person for readily accepting the request of the department to address the students. She congratulated the entire department for the success and knowledge enriching session. Ms. Vidya expressed the joy of being affiliated with young, curious and interactive minds in her closing lines. She also acknowledged Dr. Maduramozi, the department coordinator for the thoughtful choice of topic for the discourse. Dr. Sheeba also mentioned that many such departmental initiatives are in the pipeline and the department is consistently engaged towards fostering an inclination towards literature, irrespective of which stream the students belong to.
