MAIN THEME OF THE SEMINAR:

“The New World Order: The Current Trends in Cultural, Social and Economic Globalization: A Multidisciplinary Approach”

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

The term “New World Order” refers to a new period of history evidencing dramatic change in world political thought and the balance of power in international relations. The word “Globalization” has been widely promulgated to refer to aspects of development mostly from an economic perspective; to describe the increasing flow across borders of labour, capital, goods and services, and the formation of international production networks as represented in multinational enterprises, for example. The term globalization first appeared in the early 20th century (supplanting an earlier French term mondialization), developed its current meaning some time in the second half of the 20th century, and came into popular use in the 1990s. Since the 1990s, however, the term has been picked up by scholars from a wide variety of disciplines, such as Sociology, Political Science, Anthropology and Cultural Studies. Its use is no longer limited to economics and the term has spurred debate in various areas of study. The word “Globalization” is not used in a limited sense to refer to a particular matter (e.g. “The Globalization of Finance”). Common views among those who take a sociological stance are: “All the dimensions of Globalization – Economic, Technological, Political, Social And Cultural – appear to be coming together at the same time, each reinforcing and magnifying the impact of the others” (Cohen and Kennedy); and “Globalization is best thought of as a multidimensional set of social processes that resists being confined to any single thematic framework. ”A Multidisciplinary Approach brings together Academicians, Researchers, Research Scholars, Professionals, Industry Experts, and Students to share their experiences and research outcomes in the field of research. In this context, the present Seminar provides a suitable Multidisciplinary platform for researchers from all fields of study to present and discuss the most recent innovations, trends, concerns as well as practical challenges and arrive at viable solutions. Keeping this in mind to on the occasion of 5th Anniversary of foundation of day of All India Researchers' Association® (AIRA) Mysore and St Francis de Sales College, Hebbagodi, Electronic City, Bangalore-560100 jointly organized One Day National Seminar on the Theme “The New World Order: The Current Trends in Cultural, Social and Economic Globalization: A Multidisciplinary Approach” on 4th June 2022
