Goods and Service Tax Law will lead the way in creating a $ 5 trillion Indian economy. It has not only renewed the hope of India's fiscal reform program but is also boosting the economy. Yet, there are fears of disruption embedded in what's perceived as a rushed transition that may side-track the country.

Our government will decide whether these fears turn into hope through their determination. But, most importantly, its ease of implementation and success rests on all of us as citizens.

Taxability of receipts of Charitable Institutions under GST

Dr.V. Muthu Kumar

The provisions relating to taxation of activities of charitable institutions and religious trusts have been borrowed and carried over from the erstwhile service tax provisions. All services provided by such entities are not exempt. In fact, there are many services that are provided by such entities which would be within the ambit of GST. Notification No.12/2017-Central Tax (Rate) dated 28th June 2017 exempts services provided by entity registered under Section 12AA of the Income-tax Act, 1961 by way of charitable activities from whole of GST vide entry No. 1 of the notification, which specifies that "services by an entity registered under Section 12AA of Income-tax Act, 1961 by way of charitable activities" are exempt from whole of the GST. Thus as per this notification, exemption is given to the charitable trusts, only if the following conditions are satisfied.

GST on real Estate and Works Contract

Simply put, a works contract is essentially a contract of service which may also involve supply of goods in the execution of the contract. It is basically a composite supply of both services and goods, with the service element being dominant in the contract between parties. In a general sense, a contract of works, may relate to both immovable and immovable property. E.g. if a sub-contractor, undertakes a sub-contract for the building work, it would be a works contract in relation to immovable property. Similarly, if a composite supply in relation to movable property such as fabrication/painting/annual maintenance contracts etc. is undertaken, the same would come within the ambit of the broad definition of a works contract
