Report:

“Two heads are better than One”

A Class activity has been conducted for IV Semester BSc.PCM/MEC and IV semester BSc CJP students on 12.07.2022 and 18.07.2022.

Number of Participants

After the completion of the language component on the topic of Group Discussion. A Class activity was planned for the students of IV Semester BSc PCM/MEC and IV semester BSc CJP. The topic was given a week prior. So all the students gathered a lot of information to add their views to the discussion. The students were filled with enthusiasm and curiosity to experience activity-based learning. This activity develops speaking skills and sharpens communication skills among students. It also fosters cooperation and encourages participation.

A healthy Group Discussion was conducted on the topic “E-Learning – Pros and Challenges” All the students vigorously participated in the Group Discussion and strongly put forth their views on the topic abiding by the rules which they had learned in Group Discussion. Every student shared their ideas and opinions about the topic. As the discussion continued the students were more actively involved and gained confidence. They also understood how to take turns and present themselves effectively.

A group discussion always has the advantage of varied views. All the students emerged with their varied approaches to solve the same problem. Consequently, it provided a better insight for decision-making. The students were prepared with their data and facts to support their statements, which also paved the way for their research. It was a time-consuming activity but all the students interacted well and took part in the discussion. The activity made the students stay focused and engaged throughout the session. It was a fruitful conversation.
