The Department of Humanities and Languages in collaboration with Research and IP Cell organized an International Conference on 12th and 13th of October 2021. The title of the conference was "TWO DAYS INTERNATIONAL MULTIDISCIPLINARY CONFERENCE ON "RESEARCH IN HUMANITIES": FINDINGS AND CHALLENGES. There were different sub- themes under the main theme of the conference.

In today's world, Research has become a vital part of everyone's life. Through this conference we have tried to bridge the gap between the questions regarding the research and certain methodologies of the same.

There were few objectives which were framed for this International Conference and they are as follows:

- aimed to bring intellectuals together, to discuss and learn, to bring latest development in the field of research and to instigate further testing and investigations through research works to build research culture in the society.
- aimed to enlighten the young minds about the impact of knowledge integration for a well needed understanding of the theme.
- Aimed at empowering academics, researchers and professionals to build collaborative networks.
- Aimed at inspiring settings to start new research, strategies, best practices and innovations.
- Aimed in building multidisciplinary networks to promote humanities and social sciences at a global level.

The Conference was conducted through online mode (Google Meet) wherein we had almost 200 participants across. We had one keynote speaker, 2 Panelists and 5 moderators for the Conference.

The session began by seeking the blessing of the lord almighty which was followed by Rev. Dr. Roy, our principal's presidential address. It was followed by key note speaker's address, Prof. Sameem MAM. He enlightened us about research ethics. The session began by defining research ethics, purpose of ethics and the history of research, starting from Nuremberg code to the latest development and evolution of ethics in the field of research were explained with examples and pictorial representations. Ethical guidelines in research were explained in detail.

The first Plenary session with Dr Vibhuti Patel was enriching. The panelist presented important objectives of Women Studies. Concepts of women studies, gender analysis, gender bias in analysis were explained in detail. Dr Patel highlighted the importance of research in women studies, contribution of research works in law enforcement or constitution and these works being the milestone for several landmark changes in the society.

The second plenary session was handled by Dr Parvathamma. The panelist defined publication and its purpose was explained. Dr Parvathamma threw light on publication, its impact and role of ethics in research to have quality papers to strengthen the field of research. Panelists were asked several doubts by the participants enlightening the sessions. Research scholars were the actual contributors of the conference. Over 51 papers were submitted to the conference by National and international Delegates. Each and every paper was unique, intensive and detailed work. Technical sessions were divided for two days. Technical sessions on both days were fruitful. Our Chair's for each of the technical session gave their valuable points to all presenters. Some of the key points taken up from the review are given below.

- Several quantitative, qualitative and mixed design were used for the studies.
- Good and effective research papers.
- Scientific, empirical and conceptual papers were presented.
- Papers were very much relevant to the theme and sub-themes of the conference, not only that the papers had the contributing factors.
- Variety of interesting papers
- Unique and creative papers were thought provoking, analytical and solution-based works.

In a nutshell, the Two days were the celebration of intellectuals coming together in making the conference effective, successful and fruitful. As a whole the Two-Day International Multidisciplinary Conference was enriching, it was a treasure to the knowledge bank, it has brought oneness as researchers came together to make this event happen and the two days has witnessed the contribution for the holistic growth and development of the society at large.
