All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy! This commonly used maxim is so true when it concerns the profession like teaching which demands the constant attention and dedication of knowledge-seekers. This brings into focus the need for a fun element to learn and to motivate all the teaching staff to learn something new or to hone a skill that they possess as a gift. The Cultural Committee and The Faculty Enrichment Committee both altogether had conducted a cultural program on the theme of “Free to express! Rise & Fly!” on 11th February 2022 at 12 noon for all the teaching staff working at St Francis De Sales College. The program was conducted in the Auditorium. Principal, Vice Principal and all the teaching faculty members participated in the session.

The program was driven by Ashwini C, Assistant professor of Management and Anusha, Assistant Professor of Commerce. Every human being has been blessed with different abilities, talents and capabilities. Every one differs from each other in that everyone has different interests and inclinations. These talents define a person as an artist, singer, dancer, writer etc. Everyone has the talents in their own depth; story, meaning and beauty which make them stand out among others.

In order to bring out the talents of the teaching faculty many competitions were conducted such as Book ramp, Guess what, Mirror of minds, Instant winner, Ball in the bucket and Just a minute. It was great entertainment for all teaching staff and it was the platform for them to show their potential talents.

This program entertained all the teaching staff and gave some refreshment in their day to day work routine. It was an interactive session. All the teaching staff interacted well and shared their thoughts.

Positive Outcome:

The prime objective of this program was to bring the talents of teaching staff and to entertain them in a funny way. When entertainment and job go hand in hand, everyone can benefit a great deal. Everyone craves recognition and appreciation. So the stage was welcoming every teacher to show off their talents, to participate in the events and to entertain others. For every activity the winners got a small gift and were appreciated by all other staff. It was a great entertainment and encouraging session for all the teaching staff who attended this program.
