some data about why students are not able to crack interviews. Also, compared his time and the present situation and how difficult it is to get a high-paying job. As a solution for these problems, students have to increase their skill set. Even in the tire, one cities number of students who did their internship is very low. Due to this students have very low skill sets which are required for their future jobs. Students have to be trained with leadership qualities, how to work as a team and subject-specific skills. So, whenever students go for an interview they are ready with their skills.

The program ended with a question and answer section. At the end of the program, students got a fair idea of how it is in the corporate world. They also understood the need for soft skills.
