Report

Department of Business Administration (Aviation) in association with Department of Commerce (Tourism and Travel Management) Organised a session on Blended Learning on Aviation and Hospitality Services in Tourism Industry. The session was focused for the BBA Aviation students and Final year students of B. Com TTM

The main objective of the session is to build up right ability and knowledge to

- students regarding the career scope and opportunity in the field of aviation and hospitality industry.
- The aim of the session is to make students familiar with the scope of arts
- graduation in field of Aviation and how students can prepare themselves for their future..

The session was very much useful for the students to understand and know about the aviation industry and its growth as the course is gaining a lot of popularity these days. With the increase in the number of aviation companies, the demand for aviation professionals is on the rise. The short-term courses in aviation are a great choice for aspirants to learn valuable knowledge and skill in a short period of time.

The aviation industry covers a range of courses from cabin crew training to ground staff, to ticket management, to aviation training. Students through these courses can gain an insight into the aviation industry and understand how it has become an indispensable part of human life. Aspirants planning to pursue their career in the aviation industry will be most likely to be privy to various thrilling and exciting opportunities for travelling around the world.

The session also provided students with sufficient knowledge and experience to start their own aviation academy and businesses.

- The session focused on providing and developing the skills required for the aviation course. Most of the aviation courses required aspirants to have good communication skills along with customer services as the job requires them to interact with customers every day.
- Candidates should also have sufficient information about airport security and first aid procedures to avoid panic and loss of lives during the case of emergency.
- Some aviation jobs also require candidates to have adequate knowledge about front office operations and computer applications.
- One of the skills that come in handy is organizational skills. Since the aviation industry is very vast, it is necessary to keep all the work updated and systematized.

The session was successfully completed since the session was purely student-centric, all the students participated well and got information about how they can manage their career in aviation. Overall, the session finished smoothly and all the students showed interest in participation.
