Report:

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy! This commonly used maxim is so true when it concerns the profession like teaching, which demands the constant attention and dedication of knowledge-seekers. This brings into focus the need for a fun element to learn and to motivate all the teaching staff to learn something new or to hone a skill that they possess as a gift. The Cultural Committee and The Faculty Enrichment Committee both altogether had conducted a cultural program on the theme of “Free to express! Rise & Fly!” on 11th February 2022 at 12 noon for all the teaching staff working at St Francis De Sales College.

The program was conducted in the Auditorium. Principal, Vice Principal and all the teaching faculty members participated in the session. The program was driven by Ashwini, Assistant professor of Management and this program entertains all the teaching staff and gave some refreshment in their day-to-day work routine. It was an interactive session. All the teaching staff interacted well and shared their thoughts.

Positive Outcome:

The prime objective of this program was to bring the talents of the teaching staff and to entertain them in a funny way. When entertainment and job go hand in hand, everyone can benefit a great deal. Everyone craves recognition and appreciation. So the stage was welcoming every teacher to show off their talents, participate in the events, and entertain others. For every activity, the winners got a small gift and were appreciated by all the other staff. It was great entertainment and encouraging session for all the teaching staff who attended this program.
